

“I can’t understand why there aren’t rings of young people blocking bulldozers and preventing them from constructing coal-fired power plants.” —Al Gore

“Be part of the largest mass civil disobedience for the climate in U.S. history.”

You know there is a climate crisis. You know we have to stop it. It’s time to take our action to the next level.

With a new administration and a new Congress, we have a window of opportunity. But we have to open it – together.

On March 2, join thousands of people in a generational act of civil disobedience at the Capitol Power Plant – a plant that powers Congress with dirty energy, and symbolizes a past that cannot be our future.
